

Dr. Ioannis Kyriakantonakis

I am a Post-doctoral Joint Fellow at the Villa I-Tatti (Florence) and the Dumbarton Oaks (Washington DC) research centres of Harvard University. Previously, I was a Post-doctoral Researcher at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Department of Political Science and Public Administration, with a scholarship of the Greek State Scholarships Foundation. Post-doctoral Fellow of the Hellenic Institute of Byzantine and Post-Byzantine Studies of Venice and Researcher at the Centre for Asia Minor Studies in Athens. From 2015 to 2021 I taught History of European Education at the Department of European Civilisation of the Hellenic Open University. Since the 2019-2020 academic year I have been teaching Theory and History of Nationalism in the graduate programme Southeast European Studies of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens and I serve as a tenured Teacher of history and classical languages in the Greek high school system.

Main research/academic interests:

Intellectual History - History of Scholarship & Education - Sociology of Intellectuals.

History of Christianity - Early Modern Religious Dynamics.

Theories of Nationalism - History of Nationalism in the Balkans.

Selection of Publications:

“Sources of the History of Greek education in the Ottoman Empire and their authors. Matthaios Pararikas, Manuel Gedeon, Georgios Hassiotis”, Topics of the History of Education [Themata istorias tes ekpedeusis], no 21 (2022), 11-52.

“Nationalism and Religion. Historical Aspects of the Relationship”, The Historical Review XVI (2019), 187-210.

“Science as a vocation. Athanasios Papadopoulos-Kerameus and Vasileios Mystakidis, Constantinople-Smyrna-Jerusalem-Petersburg” (in Greek), Bulletin of the Centre for Asia Minor Studies vol. 20 (2017), 139-172.

“Dispute and Erudition. Conflicting Readings on Byzantine History in Early Modern Greek Historical Literature”, Héritages de Byzance en Europe du Sud-Est à l’ époque moderne et contemporaine, ed. O. Delouis, A. Couderc, P. Guran, Athens: École Française d’ Athènes, 2013, 161-178.

